

The Faculty of Natural Sciences is cordially inviting you to the lectures of

Amotz Zahavi

Tel Aviv University, Israel

author of "The handicap principle: a missing piece of Darwin's puzzle", evolutionary biologist and founder of Society for the Protection of Nature in Israel

An overview on Number of examples of the theory of signal selection and the role of the handicap principle in warning calls colour patterns morphological adaptations social interactions (altruism)
hormones neurotransmitters and on the development of new traits

Signalling within the organism

Monday 29.4.2013 at 15:00 (Kuzela seminar series) CH1-222, Prif UK

Signal selection

Tuesday 30.4.2013 at 12:30 B1-301, Prif UK

Altruism

Tuesday 30.4.2013 at 17:00 Bratislavsky institut humanizmu, BISLA

<http://www.tau.ac.il/lifesci/departments/zoology/members/zahavi/zahavi.html>
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Amotz_Zahavi

If you are interested in a meeting with the speaker, please contact Lubomir Tomaska at tomaska@fns.uniba.sk or Jozef Nosek at jozef.nosek@fns.uniba.sk

Prif UK, Mlynska dolina, BA <http://www.fns.uniba.sk>
BIH, BISLA, Grosslingova 53, BA <http://www.bisla.sk/sk>
<http://www.bih.sk>